Joy Bell.

A deaf woman used to tell this story on herself: At a reunion of Confederate veterans where she was officiating as hostess a man was brought up to her and reintroduced as a Mr. Blank, a former resident of her town, and one whom she had not seen for fifty years. He was so little changed by the touch of time and so free from any of the lines that care and anxiety set upon the face that she presently asked, "Mr. Blank, did you ever marry?" She thought she heard him say, "I married forty-five years ago." What he really said was, "My wife died five years ago." Then she, in view of his free, unabashed attitude, said, "You don't look much subdued by the experience." Since then it has become her habit to hesitate for a significant second after the first syllable whenever she speaks of her damaged ears.

Ungentle Brute.

It was a very hot day and a picnic had been arranged by the United Society of Lady Vegetarians.

They were comfortably seated, and waiting for the kettle to boil, when, horror of horrors! a savage bull appeared on the scene.

Immediately a wild rush was made for safety, while the raging creature pounded after one lady who, unfortunately, had a red parasol. By great good fortune she got over the stile before it could reach her. Then, regaining her breath, she turned round.

"Oh, you ungentle creature!" she exclaimed. "Here have I been a vegetarian all my life. There's gratitude for you!"

It takes a smart man to look wise when he isn't.

BLAZE RENDERS FIVE THOUSAND HOMELESS

SIX BLOCKS OF COTTAGES AND APARTMENT HOUSES ARE DESTROYED.

Los Angeles, Sept. 4.—Five thousand people are homeless in Santa Monica as the result of a fire which originated in the kitchen of the Casino cafe at 5 p. m. and burned uncontrolled until nearly 9.

Six solid blocks of cottages and apartment houses, crowded with summer visitors, were destroyed. The famous Frazer's million dollar pier, with all its concession buildings, was totally destroyed, except for the concrete piling of the pier itself.

The Decatur hotel, famed to all who have traveled to the Pacific coast in the last ten years, was leveled, along with the long string of small business houses along the "pike," and the bath house, one of the finest and largest on the coast, rests in its own ashes. The monetary loss is estimated at $2,500,000.

One Japanese is known to be dead. He jumped into the ocean while trying to escape from the blazing pier and was drowned. It is reported seven others were killed in the holocaust.

The cause of the fire is not known. At the first alarm the Ocean Park department responded quickly but from the first was almost helpless. Soon the departments with all their apparatus from Venice and Santa Monica were on the scene, but they, too, put up a losing fight until a wide area of buildings had been razed with dynamite.

Scenes of the wildest confusion followed the rapid spread of the flames. Summer pleasure seekers, who have thronged the beach cities all the summer, fled into the streets in panic from their evening meal. The streets were soon thronged with men and women carrying trunks and things of value fleeing to places of safety.

CARBOLIC ACID KILLS YOUTH

Deadly Fluid Causes Boy's Death and His Chum Is Locked Up Suspecting From Burns.

Canton, O., Sept. 4.—William Johanning, 18, of this city, is dead, and Curtis Dorrrow, 17, is locked up at police station here suffering from burns about the face as the result of drinking carbollic acid in the room of Dorrrow's sweetheart, Miss Hilda Huprich, 16, while the girl looked on.

Dorrrow said he had gone into Miss Huprich's room and upraised her "for having another fellow." Then he said he pulled out the whisky bottle and told her he guessed he would commit suicide. Seeing some carbollic acid in a bottle on the bureau, he poured it into the whisky bottle. Here Johanning entered, he says, and was invited to drink half of the mixture. He accepted and followed that drink with a long draught from the bottle. He died later at a hospital.

Best Method of Punishing Young Child

By THOMAS C. RICE, Chicago

Why whip the children when there is another method? And never threaten the children. To do so places one under an unpleasant obligation. When the child does something that he should not, simply say to him in a kind way, "Do not do that." Then, provided the offense is committed again, you are at liberty to make a choice of punishments as you choose.

One of the finest methods is, after the deed, to ask: "Did not I tell you not to do that?" After a while the child will ask you for a favor and you can then refuse him by saying that he cannot have it because he did what you told him not to do. Make the statements simply, kindly and firmly. Such a method adopted soon becomes a habit and the children will understand it and it will be enjoyed by all parties concerned.

The average parent is angry to some extent when he undertakes to inflict corporal punishment. In which case he is in no condition to perform the act, because he has no idea as to how hard he strikes or how roughly he handles the child.

Use a mixture of kindness and firmness together with the very best judgment at your command in caring for the little ones, the same as you would desire of them when you again become the child in your dotage.

Moderation in all things, advised St. Paul. There is a safe medium between the pace of an ox team that the old folks waited two or three days for and the speed of autos curving around corners into overcongested thoroughfares and the whizzing lightning speeded motorcycles.

"All's well that ends well," and the tortoise oftentimes gets there first.

The hurried meals, the complexity of unwisely self-imposed obligations, the lack of backbone, which opposes with an emphatic "No" the desire of a morbidly constituted public which demands the sensational in sky, earth and water—are causes backing a great mortality in modern times.

Hurry and worry have almost done away with the fine art of meditation, which looks placidly at things present and largely and grandly into the eternal verities.

The national guard is an organization founded for the purpose of protecting state and city property and to quell riots which are too great to be handled by the civil authorities. It is also a reserve force of the army, each man being called upon to do nine months' service.

Many persons form the belief that the national guard is used only to fight strikers and to protect "scabs." I can honestly say that it is founded for no such ideas.

The national guard offers a young man many club features, such as athletic meets, indoor baseball, basket ball, dancing, vaudeville, rifle practice.

The rifle practice is absolutely without expense to members, as ammunition and transportation are furnished by the state.

All equipment is furnished by the state and a member is entirely without expense.

TEDDY DEFENDS TARIFF IDEA

Roosevelt Answers Criticism Levelled Against Him by Woodrow Wilson at Buffalo.

St. Louis, Sept. 4.—A sharp defense of his attitude as to the tariff and handling of the trusts was made by Col. Roosevelt here in answer to the criticism leveled against him by Woodrow Wilson in Buffalo. Speaking before the Missouri state convention of the progressive party at the Jai Alia building, the bull moose candidate assailed Wilson's record in trust regulation during his incumbency as governor of New Jersey, saying that the Democratic candidate had done nothing.

Wilson's Two Western Trips. Sea Girt, N. J., Sept. 4.—Gov. Wilson announced here that he had agreed to the suggestion of Congressman Burleson of the speakers' bureau to make two trips to the west, but not until after the New Jersey primaries. These trips will carry him to Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota and to Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa.

Worth of Clothes.

The influence of clothes must continue to be, as it has been from the beginning of history, either "sacred or profane," a foremost factor in those forces by which man's destiny is guided. His health and comfort, aims and purposes, social standing and business prosperity; everything indeed that makes his life worth living may be affected by it in directions never dreamed of by the tailor who, if he does not actually make the man, is largely instrumental in making him what he is.

DANGER IN DELAY.

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Canfield People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney trouble is that they get firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, and Bright's disease, follow as the kidneys get worse. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with the reliable and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Canfield.

L. M. Cox, High St., Canfield, Ohio, says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills for three or four years and they have always done good work. I was troubled by pains in my back and the kidney secretions were scanty and gelled with sediment, and I began to feel languid. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did so. I got relief at once and since then when I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills they have always benefited me. I can heartily endorse them."

Horse Up a Tree.

Visitors to Perry Bar were much surprised yesterday morning to see a horse up among the branches of a tree. The animal had got in its uncomfortable position by falling ten feet from a bank that overtopped the tree. The tree probably saved the horse's life.

Blocks and fall were fastened to a tree stump on top of the hill and leather belts were wrapped about the horse. When the work of hitching the belts was completed it was found that the animal could not be rescued until several of the limbs of the tree were cut off. This took considerable time, during which the horse rested and watched the work of the score or more of men who were trying to release him. With the removal of the last limb the horse was slowly drawn to the top of the bank from which he had fallen. A close examination revealed that outside of a few scratches he was unhurt.—Baltimore American.

Spell Against Evil Eye.

Southern India is a land of omens and superstitions. These are remnants of the religion of the lost Dravidian races, engrafted upon the Hinduism of their conquerors. Edgar Thurston, in a book on the subject just published in England, gives an exhaustive account of the strange beliefs of these various races, where human sacrifice, though forbidden by law, persists.

The author cites, among other charms against the evil eye impressions of the hand in red paint, which may be seen on the walls of mosques and other Mohammedan buildings and at Kadur on the houses of Brahmins, a photograph of one of which, taken by Mr. Thurston, is reproduced.

Superior Judgment.

"So you suspect that men are quicker of judgment in practical matters than women." "Yes," replied Miss Cayenne. "Men have heeded the warnings of the newspapers and quit buying gold bricks, but women continue to marry for money."
